

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 27, 2020 (Key West, FL). “Age is an Attitude: Celebrate the Second Half of Your Life” Womankind Women’s Forum set for March 20 – March 22

With Womankind supporter Marion Levine’s 76th birthday approaching, the nonprofit medical center with a special focus on women and teen’s health would like to invite women in their middle and later life to an uplifting weekend forum at The Studios of Key West on Friday, March 20 – Sunday, March 22 to reflect and get curious about what else may be possible.

“Womankind strives to support the health of the whole person, and this forum is a great way for us to do that,” says Womankind Executive Director Cali Roberts. “We are hoping it will inspire and encourage women to explore and embrace the many wonderful possibilities that can lie ahead for them.”

Facilitated by local coach, consultant, and columnist Elisa Levy, attendees will enjoy engaging presentations and insightful workshop panels on reinvention and reflection with radio talk show host, columnist, and expert entrepreneur & CEO advisor Dr. Gayle Carson (aka “Spunky Old Broad”) and international speaker (Omega Institute, Smithsonian Institute, Body & Soul Interface Conference...) and New York Times Bestseller Sophy Burnham. In addition to the workshops, a welcome reception on Friday, lunch on Saturday, and gentle yoga and a closing garden brunch on Sunday allow attendees to connect with friends, old and new.

Tickets are $225 and can be purchased at womankindkeywest.com. Sponsored in part by Marion Levine. For more information call Womankind at 305-294-4004. Womankind. Rightfully yours.

###

Image: Womankind patron Marion Levine, Breast Health Coordinator Ginny Bar, and Tracey Crow raise a toast to Womankind's upcoming Women's Forum: Age is an Attitude, Celebrate the Second Half of Your Life. The uplifting weekend forum will be held at The Studios of Key West on Friday, March 20 – Sunday, March 22, and will feature Keynote Speakers Dr. Gayle Carson (aka "Spunky Old Broad") and New York Times Bestseller Sophy Burnham, facilitated by local coach Elisa Levy, and offers workshops that will help women reflect and get curious about what else may be possible. Photo by Johnny White.